Course Description

This course is designed to provide students with little to no previous knowledge of English grammar the opportunity to learn essential basic grammatical structures. In this beginning course, students will review rules governing the use and meaning of the present tense English with be, have, and other common verbs. They will also learn and practice producing simple declarative and interrogatory sentence structures. Students will practice identifying and producing these target structures in spontaneous oral and written communication. Noncredit. NOT DEGREE APPLICABLE. Not Transferable.

Course Level Student Learning Outcome(s)

1. Students will be able to use the simple present and present progressive tense with common verbs in declarative negative and affirmative sentences, both orally and in writing.
2. Students will be able to ask simple yes/no questions and wh-questions about familiar topics.
3. Students will be able to use newly learned vocabulary according to the word of speech and its characteristics (count and noncount verbs, articles, adjectives, adverbs, and verbs).

Course Objectives

- 1. Demonstrate the ability to use be and do in negative sentences
- 2. Construct short declarative and interrogative sentences in the present simple and present progressive
